Hemispheric Influence

Nothing is riskier than trying to rate the historical importance of current events, but the meeting of Allied military forces in Germany is of obvious significance.

Aside from Russia's penetration to the central part of Europe, there is an American aspect of the event which is even more important. The military power of the United States has been projected from the Ryukyus, off the west coast of Asia, more than halfway around the world, to the heart of Europe. It extends through two oceans, above and below the equator. Planes designed and built in the United States, American ships, American-made equipment and American fighting men, technicians and service troops are active in all parts of the northern hemisphere and many parts of the southern hemisphere.

Yet, perhaps because the American sense of history is not quite strong enough to enable us to comprehend what we know, the impact of American ideas, methods, machinery and manpower since Pearl Harbor has been largely disregarded. There is even a curious tendency to assume that this nation, in comparison with the Soviet Union, has been placed on the defensive by the latter's dynamic deeds in the war with Germany. We may be sure the Russians know better and that in every other nation whose people have been made aware of the worldwide influence of the United States there is a realization of America's without precedent in the history of nations that have sought international prestige.

French Mirror

If the French go through with their plan to try Marshal Petain next month for his conduct after Germany over-ran their country five years ago in June, there will be grim laughter mixed with the indictment. The laughter has started already; it is reported that some Frenchmen are "embarrassed" by the 88-year-old marshal's decision to make himself available. The word is too mild.

The truth is, Petain reflected the attitude of many Frenchmen in his decision after France's collapse. He was trying, in his predetermined way, to make his peace with new circumstances—a way predetermined by lifelong contempt for democratic processes and admiration for authoritarianism—the mark of the professional soldier.

He was a traitor to France only in the sense that there was something traitorous in millions of Frenchmen. He was more a dupe than a turncoat. In a comparison close to American experience in World War II, he was in a position like that of the pre-war isolationists whose attitudes proved useful to the enemy, though their patriotism could not be questioned.

In the machinations of French politics, it may seem necessary to bring to trial and even to execute a doddering old man for thinking the time had arrived in his country to rule with the consent of the Germans, instead of the consent of the governed. Marshal Petain made a mistake, a grave mistake, but he never lacked companions—and what is to become of them?

What Are Wages?

Webster's definition of wages—pay for labor, given at short intervals—has been revised by WLB. By a series of rulings, including its acceptance of the bituminous wage contract, it has said that wages are the time basis of pay for labor, to be added to by whatever concessions may be won on a variety of other bases.

The new definition, created to circumvent a wage stabilization policy in wartime, will be with the country a long time. When the war is over and free collective bargaining is resumed, concessions over and above wages won by labor will be guarded jealously. They will be established as one source of labor's income; the principle that the money results of collective bargaining are not measured wholly in hourly rates, but in all income-producing arrangements that can be added to cost of production will be a starting point in "wage" negotiations.

This may be the thing for which John L. Lewis, who has used it more aggressively than anyone else in collective bargaining, will be remembered. It may be his distinct personal contribution to the science and art of bargaining: that a wage raise by any other name is just as satisfactory, and therefore anyone who thinks income is stabilized when wages are stabilized is either a fool or a member of the WLB.

Education and Experience

Described as the first study of its kind, a project to measure the relative values of education and experience is being pushed by the Maryland state department of employment and registration and Coucher college department of political science. Main purpose of the project is to reveal proper requirements for civil service tests, with particular attention to war veterans.

The study is supposed to reveal whether there is a trend away from hard and fast educational requirements, to compare the job success of employees with extensive educational qualifications and employees with extensive experience qualifications, and to identify occupational fields in which education is essential, in contrast with those in which experience is practicable.

This is to wish the Marylanders success. If they can find any real difference between things learned in school (education) and the same things learned out of school (experience) their discovery will rank with the sulfa drugs, penicillin, the door knob, the law of gravity, Gresham's law and the probability that one sucker will be found for every slot machine. They might revolutionize formal education and/or experience in the United States.

It would be well to give such essentials serious thought, sound decisions, comfort and security. While realistic views are important, ideals and aspirations may give impetus to the best efforts. But be prepared to work independently of outside aid or approbation. Shun strife with the opposition.

Those whose birthday it is may benefit from a year in which an opportunity for placing the affairs and the future on a firm foundation, if a definite and concrete plan of action toward this end be inaugurated. Sensible and well-organized plans are encouraged, aided or inspired by higher views or ideals.

Treatment of Chronic Breast Pain

BY HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

THERE is a condition which may develop in the breasts of certain women known as chronic cystic mastitis of cyst formation in the breasts.

Before this condition develops there may be pain in the breasts known as mastodynia. This pain at first may be slight, and occur only before the regular periods, but as time passes, it may become more severe and finally last for several weeks. In some instances, the pain clears up, but in some cases other conditions known as adenosis of the breast may develop.

The treatment of painful breasts with glandular extracts known as estrogenic substances has been recommended. The treatments are given by injection into a muscle twice a week for several months.

Then they are given, as a rule, twice a month for the next two months, and then once a month until a total period of six months has passed. As a general rule, this type of treatment brings a great deal of relief, if not a cure.

If the condition of painful breasts is allowed to continue, adenosis or so-called "shotty breast" may develop. In this condition, there are small lumps in the breast like hard pieces of material or shot.

Glandular Disturbance According to Dr. Herbert H. Hesser of Kansas, adenosis develops because of some disturbance of the pituitary gland located at the base of the brain. The secretions from the pituitary gland have a part in regulating the action of the ovaries.

In adenosis, treatment with estrogenic substance also would appear to have a good result, because the estrogens affect the pituitary gland. On the other hand, the condition may be treated with a substance known as testosterone propionate, since this material has the action of suppressing certain secretions formed by the pituitary gland. Dr. Hesser has had good results in giving injections of this material twice a week for a period of six months.

Dr. Hesser also thinks that treatment with estrogenic substance may be helpful in cystic disease of the breast in which sacs containing fluids or cysts are present. He has not found X-ray treatment of help for painful breasts, for adenosis or for cystic diseases of the breast.

There are some physicians who believe that cystic disease of the breast is a forerunner of the development of breast cancer and for this reason when chronic cystic disease is present they advise surgical removal of the breast. However, it would appear that there is some division of opinion on this matter.

Other physicians favor treatment with glandular extracts in an attempt to control the condition. In each case, the physician will have to decide what form of treatment will be most successful.

Whenever painful breasts develop, a careful study should be made at once to determine, if possible, what is producing the difficulty. In early cases, treatment with glandular extracts may be satisfactory in controlling many of these cases. In other instances, operative treatment may be required.

LEAVES FROM A WAR CORRESPONDENT'S NOTEBOOK

by Hal Boyle

SAXONY — Germany already is "lost generation" from the war, consisting of young men and a large percentage of girls—from ages 10 to 20.

It is hard to see how any policy the Allies to rebuild Germany by Democratic lines can find support among these young people, who have been fed in their most mature years on the Fuehrer's regime of race superiority.

The Nazi party had a careful system for grooming its future leaders, and the most aggressive and talented young men and women have been so deeply of its propaganda as they are permanently affected. Their country's defeat apparently has made most of them more romantically and fanatically devoted to the leader who led their nation to ruin.

There is more hate in the eyes of these knee pants legions than all the army's millions of trained soldiers. Soldiers know when they are killed, but these Hitler Jugend are not developed enough to realize what has happened to their country because of Hitler, Himmler, Goring and Goebbels.

Unpredictable

Our troops despise Hitler's boy soldiers because they are unpredictable. These 12 to 16 years old boys are more dangerous than ordinary soldiers because they are more ignorant. They do not realize the hopeless situation and likely as not will try to snipe from the roadside. The surest way of committing military suicide, the Americans hate to kill boys, but a crazy boy with a rifle is more of a menace than a trained soldier. I have seen scores of these dirty faced boys in prison camps and their only reaction is one of sullen pride at being grouped with older soldiers in defense of their fatherland.

"What can you do with them?" asked Lt. Col. Richard J. Conrad, Brooklyn, N. Y., of the 69th division, which has captured many of these schoolboy troopers. "If you treat them like men it just makes them think they are heroes."

"I would like to see everyone of them turned over somebody's knee in front of the older troops and given a good old fashioned spanking."

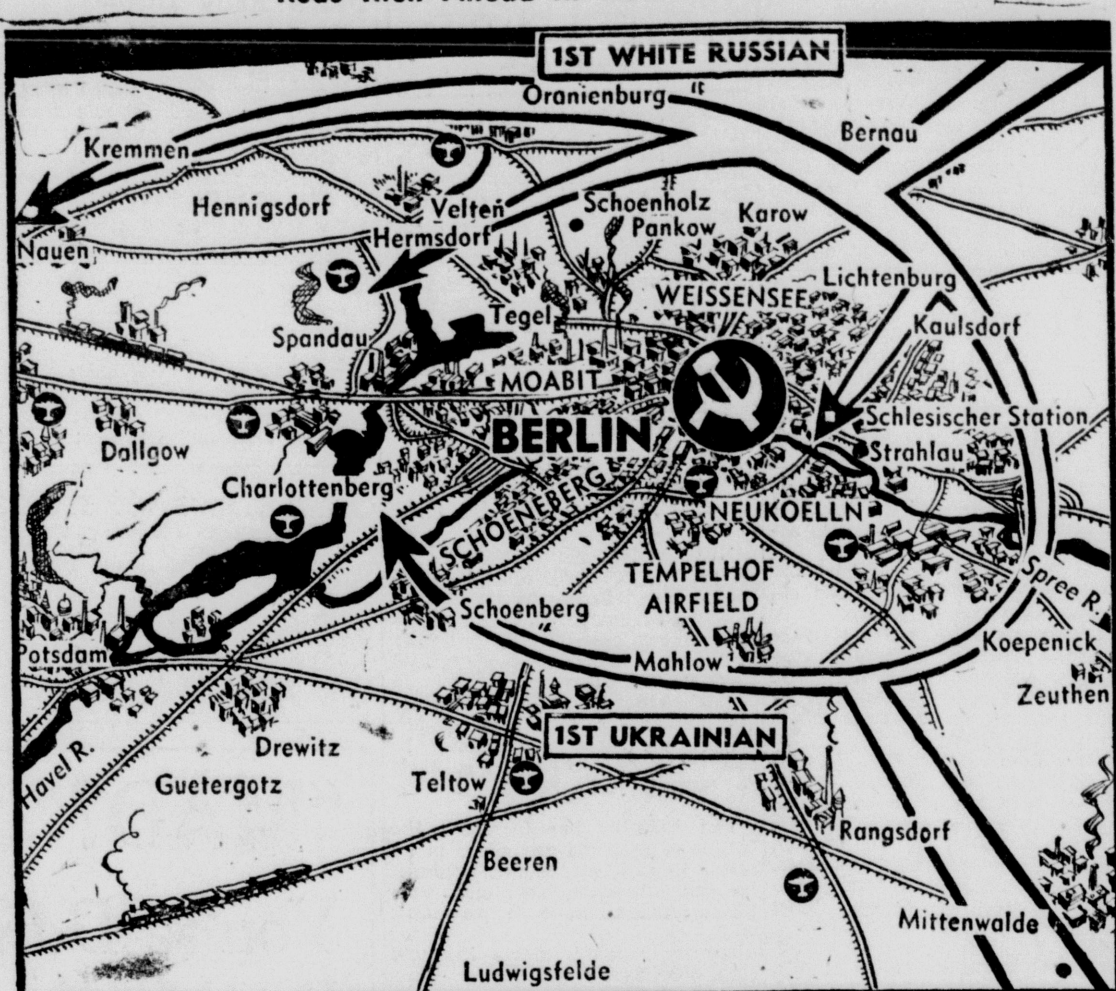

They are too dangerous to turn loose, at this stage, to become agents for Nazi underground organizations looking for stooges to commit sabotage, but I still think there is a fair portion of German boyhood that can be developed into useful citizens.

Must Be Taught

There are the alert kids from 5 to 10 years old who have fallen in love with the American army. They stand by the roadside and cheer the Yank columns. They hang around the soldiers bivouacs anxious to help out, run errands or explore parked jeeps. But the anti-Nazi fraternization policy applies even to these kids and the Americans shoo them kindly out of the way.

These children with untwisted minds and middle-aged Germans who never fell completely for Hitler's ambitions are the people the Allies must teach and preach to if there is to be an orderly, democratic Germany.

Reds Inch Ahead in Heart of Berlin

In a wheeling movement units of Marshal Zhukov's First White Russian Army made a juncture with Marshal Konev's First Ukrainian forces inside Berlin, capturing Schlesischer railway station and sealing off all districts north and east of it within a mile of the capital's leading thoroughfare, Unter Den Linden. The Soviets now have encircled the capital, with the exception of a three-mile escape corridor that is unusable because of the Reds' heavy artillery fire.

they visited their daughter and sister, Vera Mercer, S.P.X. third class of Grosse Ile, and also Mr. and Mrs. Ed Stahlin of Wyandotte.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Cronick accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Weingart of Salem, R. D., visited Mrs. Wilda Middleton and Paul Middleton of Frazesburg. Paul Middleton recently suffered a fractured limb.

Mrs. W. E. Farner of Alliance is visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Pelley. Mrs. M. F. Griffith spent Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Griffith and Mrs. Andrew Flap and children of Beloit, R. D.

Mrs. William Stryfeiler is reported ill. Linton Cosand who is ill in the Salem clinic, is reported unimproved.

Dick Newcomb Goes Fishing by Proxy

Bob Newcomb used to be the best fly caster in the county. Never missed a Saturday at Seward's Creek. But come the war, and Bob's son going off in uniform, he just lost interest in things like fishing.

But the other day Bob got a letter from the South Pacific... kind of a homesick letter: "I'm thinking of you, Dad, fishing in Seward's Creek; cooking trout over an open fire; and keeping the beer cool in the stream. Keep an extra bottle cool for me."

So Bob spent his next day off exactly as Dick dreamed of his doing—fished Seward's Creek again, and cooked the trout, and kept the beer cool in the stream. And you knew he was doing it for Dick.

From where I sit, it's what the men overseas would have us do—keep alive the little customs, the small pleasures, they remember—keep them alive till they come home to share them.

Local Woman Will Observe 89th Birthday

Today marked the 89th milestone in the life of Mrs. W. E. Bunn of Cleveland st. known to her many friends as "Grandma."

Her family will celebrate the event with a dinner Friday evening at the home of her son, Dr. William Bunn, in Youngstown. At the same time the birthday anniversary of the doctor's son, Robert, will be observed since his birthday comes on the day following his grandmother's.

Mrs. Bunn received a birthday telegram greeting from her grandson, Capt. George W. Bunn of Salem, who is in England.

Taking an active interest in church and civic affairs, Mrs. Bunn sponsored the Salem Garden club, which was organized in April, 1931, and served as its first president. During her term of office selection was made of Salem's official flower—and the forsythia in bloom over the city this year never were more beautiful.

Mrs. Bunn was teacher of the Trimble class of the Presbyterian church for many years and was made a life Sunday school teacher by this denomination. She is a member of the Travelers club, Salem's oldest literary unit, and one of its past presidents.

A former resident of Salineville, she has lived in this city for 22 years. She is the mother of George J. Bunn, Salem shoe merchant, and another son, Paul, is superintendent of schools in Youngstown.

Remember Birthdays At Presbyterian Meeting

Two members, Mrs. Henrietta Anderson, 88, and Mrs. W. E. Bunn, 89, were given gifts in honor of their birthday anniversaries at a meeting of the Women's Bible class of the Presbyterian church yesterday afternoon at the church.

Mrs. Mary Juergens, the president, was in charge, and Mrs. Mabel Riddle led devotions.

Miss Donna Lou Getz sang two solos, "Voices of the Woods" (Reubenstine) and "Open the Gates" (Knopp), with Mrs. Harold Babb playing the accompaniment. Mrs. Babb contributed two piano solos, "The Fifth Nocturne" and "The Sextette" from Lucia.

Mrs. William Hawkins, member of the class, exhibited scrapbooks she made for a veterans' hospital.

Lunch was served. Mrs. Ida Bedell and Mrs. H. A. Greiner poured. The committee in charge was composed of Mrs. Riddle, Mrs. C. B. Currier, Mrs. William Ovington, Mrs. M. A. Wolgamuth, Mrs. Eva Ruggles and Mrs. J. F. Stewart.

Program Is Enjoyed By Mothers Club

Mrs. Allen Chandler read a paper on "If Children Are Afraid" at a meeting of the Mothers club Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Michael Schuller on E. Fourth st.

She pointed out "that fear should never be used as a form of discipline and that parents should try to overcome their own fear so that they would not transfer fear to their children."

The members sewed on a benefit project. The hostess served lunch.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Ray Dean, E. Seventh st.

New Members Attend Methodist Program

The Methodist church held a reception for new members, received during the conference year, last night at the church.

A basket dinner was enjoyed, after which the adults and children were divided into different rooms. A program of games and contests entertained both groups.

Approximately 50 of the new members were present. Eighty-nine have been added.

Birthday Is Observed At Dinner Party

The birthday anniversary of Mrs. Frank Stouffer was celebrated at a dinner party last night at the home of Mrs. Gordon Oesch in Washingtonville. The table was set with a lace cloth and made attractive with tapers and a bouquet of tulips.

Cards were the chief pastime. The honoree received many gifts.

West Side Club to Meet At Stokesberry Home

The West Side Community club will hold a meeting at 8 p. m. Friday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Stokesberry on the Damascus rd.

Says Shoes To Continue On Scarce List In 1945

NEW YORK, April 25—Shoes for civilians in 1945 will continue to be scarce even with an easing of military requirements when the European war is over, George L. Smith, president of G. E. Kinney Co., said today at the annual meeting.

The leather and labor shortage "is far more serious than at any other time since war began," he said, "and this condition is likely to continue for several months more."

The industry has increased the output of non-rationed shoes in an effort to satisfy consumer demand, he said, but again labor and material problems have to be dealt with.

Kinney operates stores in more than 300 cities.

CAPITAL EXCITED BY TRUMAN VISIT WITH WAR CHIEFS

WASHINGTON, April 26—A presidential call at the Pentagon, the first since the war, has set the capital today for possible developments abroad.

Significant in President Truman's hour and 48-minute visit at the War Department headquarters yesterday were these factors:

—He met there with the highest military and diplomatic officials in Washington.

—At the Pentagon are all the agencies for the close possible liaison with battle fronts in Europe as well as in the Pacific.

—This was the commander-in-chief's second meeting in three days with virtually the same officials, suggesting the conferences related to a developing situation, or situation abroad.

—Those at the latest meeting with the President included Gen. George C. Marshall, Army chief of staff; Secretary of War Stimson; Ernest J. King, chief of naval operations; Admiral William D. Leahy, chief of staff to the commander in chief, and Under Secretary of State Joseph C. Grew, ranking State department official now in Washington.

None of the conferees gave a clue to the nature of the meeting.

The gathering assumed special importance in view of the expected imminent announcement of a junction of American and Russian forces somewhere west of Berlin.

There has been speculation in recent weeks that Japan might be nearing the time when some form of peace offer could be expected.

Also fitting into the speculation over yesterday's gathering is the question of control of Pacific bases, a matter coming up before the San Francisco conference.

GUAM, April 26—Shikoku, one of the four main Japanese home-land islands, came under Super-fortress bombings for the first time today in a raid by 200 to 250 B-29s which hit airfields there and on neighboring Kyushu.

The U. S. Coast Guard fleet now numbers more than 5,000 vessels and is the fifth largest fleet in the world.

Fear Gang Slaying Of Youngstown Man

(By Associated Press)

YOUNGSTOWN, April 26—Cuyahoga Falls police have been asked to search a swampy land near that city for the body of Jerry Pascarella, 23, of Youngstown, who has been missing since Monday night.

Pascarella's car, with bloodstains in the trunk was found near Cuyahoga Falls Wednesday.

A brother, Ludwig (Wally) Pascarella, asked police aid after he inspected the car. Ludwig expressed belief his brother had been slain.

Papers found at Jerry Pascarella's home here included letters and telegrams to and from coin device manufacturers. From the underworld came reports that Pascarella was active in the slot machine business.

Mrs. Edward Kurz, Pascarella's mother, revealed that Jerry was attacked in a Youngstown gambling joint March 30 after he won $500 in a barbit game.

Later the place was raided by Sheriff Ralph E. Elser who said he had a tip that a killing was planned and he was attempting to forestall it.

Pascarella earned the nickname of "Sledgehammer" a few years ago when he launched a one-man vice campaign, smashing pinball boards and giving the money to charity.

MEAT

Margarine will cost 12 points a pound instead of 8; so will all cheeses classified in group 1—such as cheddar, Swiss and brick.

Changes in meat values include increases of from 1 to 2 points a pound for most cuts of all grades of lamb and veal, increases of a point a pound on most beef steaks, decreases of 1 to 2 points on beef roasts and other beef cuts. Utility grades of veal and lamb will carry the same point values as the higher grades.

Price Administrator Chester Bowles said point values were restored to the additional grades and cuts of meat to keep point increases on the more desirable cuts at a minimum and to give every person the best chance possible to get his fair share of all the meat available for civilians.

Bowles predicted "definite improvement" in distribution "in the weeks and months just ahead" as a result of the new control program being put into operation.
Bowles said the hike in the value of margarine was necessary to keep consumption within the limits of the allocation—42,000,000 pounds for May compared with 40,800,000 pounds in April.

YANKS DENT ENEMY OKINAWA DEFENSES

(By Associated Press)
GUAM, April 26.—Americans advancing on the southern Okinawa front have seized all immediate key-terrain positions, a 10th Army spokesman announced today.

These include Kakazu ridge, Kakazu town, strategic hills and the important hill 178 on the east coast. Japan's southern Okinawa outer defense wall was breached after seven days of fierce fighting, and front line dispatches indicate Yank forces are well into the enemy's secondary line.

Bitter resistance cost Japan nearly 19 times as many troops killed as the Yanks lost in ground fighting, Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz said today.

Doughboys of Maj. Gen. John R. Hodge's 24th Army corps and Maj. Gen. Roy S. Geiger's marine third amphibious corps killed 21,269 Japanese and captured 399 on Okinawa and surrounding islands from D-day (April 1 on Okinawa) until dawn yesterday. This is one-third off the enemy's estimated force.

American casualties were 1,146 killed in ground action, 5,932 wounded and 296 missing through Sunday. One hundred enemy ships, including the 45,000-ton battleship Yamato, were sunk in the March 18-April 18 period.

The Seventh division now is looking down on Japanese-held Yonabaru airfield on the east coast.

County Men Confer On Road Projects

LISBON, April 26.—County Engineer Charles O. Snyder and the Columbiana county commissioners yesterday attended a meeting in Cadiz of the representatives of all counties in state highway department District 11, to make plans for post-war rural and secondary road improvements.

In conjunction with an improvement program, three years in scope, being planned for after the war, the counties are hoping to match federal money in an effort to improve country and township roads.
The setup of the post-war plan was explained in detail to the county representatives and they were instructed to make surveys of their respective counties with an eye to such improvements.

The program after the war is expected to reach $120,000,000, State Highway Director Perry Ford announced.

New Carrier Named For Late President

WASHINGTON, April 26.—The Navy which Franklin D. Roosevelt knew, loved and built to first rank today paid the late commander in chief its highest tribute.

In a tradition-shattering move, the Navy assigned the name "Franklin D. Roosevelt" to one of its mightiest warships, the 45,000-ton aircraft carrier to be launched at the New York navy yard Sunday.

Originally designated the "Coral Sea," the vessel is a sister ship of the "Midway," launched last month at Newport News, Va.

At Hyde Park, N. Y., Miss Malvina Thompson, secretary to Mrs. Roosevelt, said the former First Lady would not sponsor the carrier but planned to attend the ceremony.

SOVIET ISSUE

vote issue and creation of the executive committee.

The program then calls for speeches by Foreign Minister T. V. Soong of China, Molotov and Eden. At subsequent sessions the chief delegates of other nations will speak in the alphabetical order of their countries.

Truman, Stettinius Speak
Stettinius kicked off the oratory for the delegates of the four sponsoring powers—The United States, China, Russia and Britain—at yesterday's gala opening, after an address by President Truman and speeches of welcome by Gov. Earl Warren of California and Mayor Roger D. Lapham of San Francisco.

Mr. Truman, speaking by radio from Washington, told the hushed thousands in the opera house: "We still have a choice between the continuation of international chaos—or the establishment of a world organization for the enforcement of peace."

He declared differences between nations would always remain and "if held within reasonable limits, such disagreements are actually wholesome."

"All progress," the President added, "begins with differences of opinion and moves onward as the differences are adjusted through reason and mutual understanding."

Stettinius told the delegates that "no one of the large nations, no one of the small nations, can afford anything less than success in this endeavor. Each of them knows too well what the consequences of failure would be."

An audience estimated at 3,300 persons filled the opera house.

The whole resplendent opening ceremony—all conducted in the English language—was completed in 31 minutes. Many of the delegates, having little or no use of English, did not know what was said and copies of the speeches in other languages were distributed as rapidly as possible.

English was tagged for the official conference language.

WALL STREET

NEW YORK, April 26.—Profit taking continued to keep most stock market leaders in the minus column today although aircrafts and specialties successfully overrode this handicap and early losses elsewhere running to 4 points eventually were substantially reduced.

Rails and steels took a beating on relatively heavy volume after the opening. Recovery then got under way with dealings slackening appreciably. Declines were in the majority near the close. Transfers were in the vicinity of 1,400,000 shares.

Investment timidity was based partly on the thought more of a technical correction of the drive to 8-year peaks was a likelihood.

Margarine will cost 12 points a pound instead of 8; so will all cheeses classified in group 1—such as cheddar, Swiss and brick.

Changes in meat values include increases of from 1 to 2 points a pound for most cuts of all grades of lamb and veal, increases of a point a pound on most beef steaks, decreases of 1 to 2 points on beef roasts and other beef cuts. Utility grades of veal and lamb will carry the same point values as the higher grades.

Price Administrator Chester Bowles said point values were restored to the additional grades and cuts of meat to keep point increases on the more desirable cuts at a minimum and "to give every person the best chance possible to get his fair share of all the meat available for civilians."

Bowles predicted "definite improvement" in distribution "in the weeks and months just ahead" as a result of the new control program being put into operation.

Bowles said the hike in the value of margarine was necessary to keep consumption within the limits of the allocation—42,100,000 pounds for May compared with 40,800,000 pounds in April.

YANKS DENT ENEMY OKINAWA DEFENSES

(By Associated Press)

GUAM, April 26.—Americans advancing on the southern Okinawa front have seized all immediate key-terrain positions, a 10th Army spokesman announced today.

These include Kakazu ridge, Kakazu town, strategic hills and the important hill 178 on the east coast. Japan's southern Okinawa outer defense wall was breached after seven days of fierce fighting, and front line dispatches indicate Yank forces are well into the enemy's secondary line.

Blister resistance cost Japan nearly 19 times as many troops killed as the Yanks lost in ground fighting. Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz said today.

Doughboys of Maj. Gen. John R. Hodge's 24th Army corps and Maj. Gen. Roy S. Geiger's marine third amphibious corps killed 21,269 Japanese and captured 399 on Okinawa and surrounding islands from D-day (April 1 on Okinawa) until dawn yesterday. This is one-third off the enemy's estimated force.

American casualties were 1,146 killed in ground action, 5,982 wounded and 296 missing through Sunday.

One hundred enemy ships, including the 45,000-ton battleship Yamato, were sunk in the March 18-April 18 period.

The Seventh division now is looking down on Japanese-held Yonabaru airfield on the east coast.

The setup of the post-war plan was explained in detail to the county representatives and they were instructed to make surveys of their respective counties with an eye to such improvements.

The program after the war is expected to reach $130,000,000, State Highway Director Perry Ford announced.

New Carrier Named For Late President

WASHINGTON, April 26.—The Navy which Franklin D. Roosevelt knew, loved and built to first rank today paid the late commander in chief its highest tribute.

In a tradition-shattering move, the Navy assigned the name "Franklin D. Roosevelt" to one of its mightiest warships, the 45,000-ton aircraft carrier to be launched at the New York navy yard Sunday. Originally designated the "Coral Sea," the vessel is a sister ship of the "Midway," launched last month at Newport News, Va.

At Hyde Park, N. Y., Miss Malvina Thompson, secretary to Mrs. Roosevelt, said the former First Lady would not sponsor the carrier but planned to attend the ceremony.

vote issue and creation of the executive committee.

The program then calls for speeches by Foreign Minister T. V. Soong of China, Molotov and Eden. At subsequent sessions the chief delegates of other nations will speak in the alphabetical order of their countries.

Truman, Stettinius Speak

Stettinius kicked off the oratory for the delegates of the four sponsoring powers—The United States, China, Russia and Britain—at yesterday's gala opening, after an address by President Truman and speeches of welcome by Gov. Earl Warren of California and Mayor Roger D. Lapham of San Francisco.

Mr. Truman, speaking by radio from Washington, told the hushed thousands in the opera house: "We still have a choice between the continuation of international chaos—or the establishment of a world organization for the enforcement of peace."

He declared differences between nations would always remain and "if held within reasonable limits, such disagreements are actually wholesome."

"All progress," the President added, "begins with differences of opinion and moves onward as the differences are adjusted through reason and mutual understanding."

Stettinius told the delegates that "no one of the large nations, no one of the small nations, can afford anything less than success in this endeavor. Each of them knows too well what the consequences of failure would be."

An audience estimated at 3,300 persons filled the opera house.

The whole resplendent opening ceremony—all conducted in the English language—was completed in 31 minutes. Many of the delegates, having little or no use of English, did not know what was said and copies of the speeches in other languages were distributed as rapidly as possible.

English was tagged for the official conference language.

Puppy Match And Dog Show Slated For Salem This Summer

Noted Show Superintendent Predicts Encouragement And Early "Go-Ahead" On Shows

Salem is virtually assured of a large puppy match and may be the scene of one of the district's finest and largest licensed all-breed dog shows this summer, it was announced at the dinner meeting of the Columbiana County Kennel club last night in the Memorial building.

The puppy match—which is awaiting approval of the June 3 date by the American Kennel club—is to be held at Centennial park in the open pavilion under the sponsorship of the county organization. The event is expected to attract from 150 to 200 puppies and novice dogs, although the entries will be limited to a 50-mile radius by Office of Defense Transportation regulations.

Announcement of the date was made by J. C. Harshman, chairman of the club's show committee. The date for the larger event is tentatively set for Aug. 26 at Reilly stadium.

Dan MacDonald of East Liverpool, dog fancier and a member of the U. S. Army Canine corps training unit for two and a half years, spoke to the club last night, telling them some of the finer points of Army training given attack, sentry, first aid and other types of Army service animals.

MacDonald, a member of the club recently honorably discharged from the Army, said training included three major phases: (1) three or four days of acquainting the new dog with his trainer and handler; (2) five to six weeks of extensive obedience training and (3) a period of specialized training in the dog's respective field—attack, sentry work, etc. The last period, he said, sometimes extends up to six months of hard effort.

The former Army dog trainer said dogs were first trained by the Army for the Coast guard, Marines and their own branches. Now all training has been discontinued except at Fort Robinson, Neb., where the major part of the work is now being devoted to "detraining" or "de-biting" the canines after they have completed their overseas service.

"Dogs," MacDonald said, "go through precisely the same process of induction and training that the average Army private receives."

He outlined in detail the physical examinations, vaccinations and recording necessary before a dog actually begins training.

A special guest at the meeting was William Gugerli, America Kennel club show superintendent for this section of the country, who benched the show here for the local club a year ago.

Gugerli, recently returned from a trip to Washington and New York in regard to the present GDT ban on dog shows, extended some encouraging prospects to the club on an early relinquishing of the ban.

Without definitely stating the date of lifting, Gugerli, who is from Auburn, Ind., predicted that a loosening of the ban can be expected on or about May 10.

Club members, hoping for the opportunity to stage their Aug. 26 show, were greatly encouraged as to the plans already under way.

He said, however, that "a variety of opinions are being tossed about by Washington officials" and that any definite date is yet a question mark.

Treasurer M. A. York offered a detailed report on the organization's financial status and President Arthur Vaughan read the minutes of the previous meeting in the absence of Mrs. D. E. Parks, secretary, who is ill.

An application for membership in the club from Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Powell of Damascus was accepted after presentation by Ralph Zimmerman, chairman of the membership committee.

Mrs. J. C. Harshman, chairman of the trophy committee for the approaching shows, announced that War stamps would be offered as awards for the winning dogs in the puppy and novice dog match at Centennial park.

Harshman announced that a puppy match will be held in Akron May 27, another in Cleveland June 10, sponsored by the Northern Ohio Cocker club, and unsanctioned show by the Mahoning-Shenango Kennel club at the Canfield fairgrounds June 17.

Logan Patton of Sharon, Pa., president of the Mercer County Kennel club, also was a guest at the meeting.

INDIANS, BROWNS TO TRY IT ONCE MORE

CLEVELAND, April 26.—Rained out two successive days, the Cleveland Indians and St. Louis Browns will try again today to get their series under way with a twin-bill at League park.

Jim Bagby and Al Smith probably will hurl for the Tribesmen with Nelson Potter and Al Hollingsworth for the American league champions.

Otho Stettinius Nitcholas, 36-year old pitcher from McKinney, Texas, who won 14 and lost 11 at St. Paul last year, may not pitch Brooklyn Dodgers to a pennant, but he'll certainly add dignity to the bullpen. He's dead image of the Secretary of State.

Conservationists To Talk With Ohio Farmers, Sportsmen

COLUMBUS, April 26.—The State Conservation Commission today invited Ohioans who want changes in hunting regulations to present their views at the annual game hearing in Columbus June 14. The commission conducts two public hearings yearly and spokesmen asserted that recommendations submitted at the sessions often were determining factors in shaping Ohio's hunting and fishing regulations for subsequent seasons. The annual public fish hearing was conducted last February.

Farmers and sportsmen are represented regularly at the hearings but anyone is welcome to attend. Conservation Commissioner Don Waters explained.

"Farmer and sportsman delegates are selected in a true 'grass roots' manner from the millions of persons who hunt and fish annually in Ohio," he added.

Meetings are held in each county with chairmen of county conservation committees setting the time and place for the public gatherings.

Cholly Grimm Strumming Happy Tune After Squad Shows Pitching Strength

By JACK HAND, Associated Press Sports Writer

Cholly Grimm strummed a happy tune on his banjo today with his Chicago Cubs in second place and winning form by Claude Passeau and Paul Derringer easing his pitching worries.

The mound department was Grimm's big headache all last season and when Passeau popped up in spring training at French Lick, Ind., with a sore arm the Cubs' hopes took a nose dive. The towering right-hander had the best record on the club last year with a 15-9 mark, but had to pass up the honor of working opening day.

Derringer tossed the first one, won it, and came back with a second straight victory four days later. Inasmuch as he dropped his first four in 1944 and didn't snag a victory until May 20, that was a decided improvement. His lifetime total was boosted to 209.

Passeau relieved Hank Wyse Friday against Pittsburgh but worked only one-third inning so Grimm waited until yesterday's first starting effort, a 4-0 shutout of Cincinnati, before counting on him too heavily.

Passeau Wins
Cincinnati hit safely only five times, all singles, off the 36-year-oldster from Lucedale, Miss., as Bucky Walters suffered his first setback. Passeau didn't confine his efforts to pitching, hitting his first home run since 1942 in the third inning and driving in a second tally in the seventh with a single to center.

All other big league games were postponed, leaving the field open to discussion of new Commissioner Albert B. (Happy) Chandler and naming of 10 new members to the hall of fame.

The diamond immortals, selected by a special committee of veteran officials and baseball writers, were Roger Bresnahan, Dan Brouthers, Fred Clarke, Jimmy Collins, Ed Delahanty, Hugh Duffy, Hugh Jennings, Mike (King) Kelly, James O'Rourke and Wilbert Robinson.

The late Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis had been named by the same group at a December meeting but the baseball writers failed to appoint a 20th century star in their January poll.

Puppy Match And Dog Show Slated For Salem This Summer

Noted Show Superintendent Predicts Encouragement And Early "Go-Ahead" On Shows

Salem is virtually assured of a large puppy match and may be the scene of one of the district's finest and largest licensed all-breed dog shows this summer, it was announced at the dinner meeting of the Columbiana County Kennel club last night in the Memorial building.

The puppy match—which is awaiting approval of the June 3 date by the American Kennel club—is to be held at Centennial park in the open pavilion under the sponsorship of the county organization. The event is expected to attract from 150 to 200 puppies and novice dogs, although the entries will be limited to a 50-mile radius by Office of Defense Transportation regulations.

Announcement of the date was made by J. C. Harshman, chairman of the club's show committee. The date for the larger event is tentatively set for Aug. 26 at Reilly stadium.

Dan MacDonald of East Liverpool, dog fancier and a member of the U. S. Army Canine corps training unit for two and a half years, spoke to the club last night, telling them some of the finer points of Army training given attack, sentry, first aid and other types of Army service animals.

MacDonald, a member of the club recently honorably discharged from the Army, said training included three major phases: (1) three or four days of acquainting the new dog with his trainer and handler; (2) five to six weeks of extensive obedience training and (3) a period of specialized training in the dog's respective field—attack, sentry work, etc. The last period, he said, sometimes extends up to six months of hard effort.

The former Army dog trainer said dogs were first trained by the Army for the Coast guard, Marines and their own branches. Now all training has been discontinued except at Fort Robinson, Neb., where the major part of the work is now being devoted to "detraining" or "de-biting" the canines after they have completed their overseas service.

"Dogs," MacDonald said, "go through precisely the same process of induction and training that the average Army private receives."

He outlined in detail the physical examinations, vaccinations and recording necessary before a dog actually begins training.

A special guest at the meeting was William Gugerli, American Kennel club show superintendent for this section of the country, who benched the show here for the local club a year ago.

Gugerli, recently returned from a trip to Washington and New York in regard to easing the present ODT ban on dog shows, extended some encouraging prospects to the club on an early relinquishing of the ban. Without definitely stating the date of lifting, Gugerli, who is from Auburn, Ind., predicted that a loosening of the ban can be expected on or about May 10.

Club members, hoping for the opportunity to stage their Aug. 26 show, were greatly encouraged as to the plans already under way.

He said, however, that a variety of opinions are being tossed about by Washington officials and that any definite date is yet a question mark.

Treasurer M. A. York offered a detailed report on the organization's financial status and President Arthur Vaughan read the minutes of the previous meeting in the absence of Mrs. D. E. Parks, secretary, who is ill.

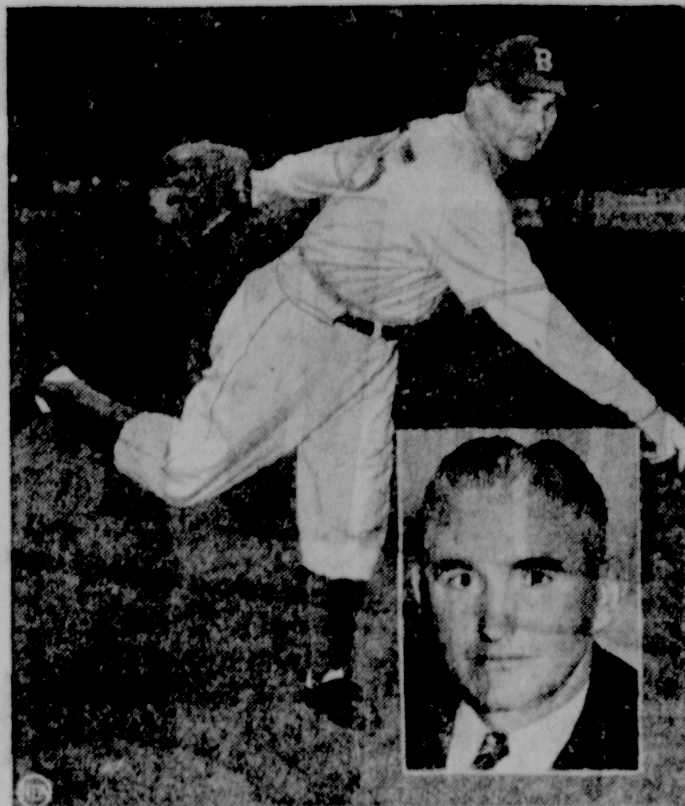

An application for membership in the club from Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Powell of Damascus was accepted after presentation by Ralph Zimmerman, chairman of the membership committee.

Mrs. J. C. Harshman, chairman of the trophy committee for the approaching shows, announced that War stamps would be offered as awards for the winning dogs in the puppy and novice dog match at Centennial park.

Harshman announced that a puppy match will be held in Akron May 27, another in Cleveland June 10, sponsored by the Northern Ohio Cocker club, and unsanctioned show by the Mahoning-Shenango Kennel club at the Canfield fairgrounds June 17.

Logan Patton of Sharon, Pa., president of the Mercer County Kennel club, also was a guest at the meeting.

Stettinius Now Pitching

Otto Stettinius Nitcholas, 36-year old pitcher from McKinney, Texas, who won 14 and lost 11 at St. Paul last year, may not pitch Brooklyn Dodgers to a pennant, but he'll certainly add dignity to the bullpen. He's dead image of the Secretary of State.

Cholly Grimm Strumming Happy Tune After Squad Shows Pitching Strength

By JACK HAND,
Associated Press Sports Writer

Cholly Grimm strummed a happy tune on his banjo today with his Chicago Cubs in second place and winning form by Claude Passeau and Paul Derringer easing his pitching worries.

The mound department was Grimm's big headache all last season and when Passeau popped up in spring training at French Lick, Ind., with a sore arm the Cubs' hopes took a nose dive. The towering right-hander had the best record on the club last year with a 15-9 mark, but had to pass up the honor of working opening day.

Lecinger tossed the first one won it, and came back with a second straight victory four days later. Inasmuch as he dropped his first four in 1944 and didn't snag a victory until May 20, that was a decided improvement. His lifetime total was boosted to 209.

Passeau relieved Hank Wyse Friday against Pittsburgh but worked only one-third inning so Grimm waited until yesterday's first starting effort, a 4-0 shutout of Cincinnati, before counting on him too heavily.

Cincinnati hit safely only five times, all singles, off the 36-year-oldster from Lucedale, Miss., as Bucky Walters suffered his first setback. Passeau didn't confine his efforts to pitching, hitting his first home run since 1942 in the third inning and driving in a second tally in the seventh with a single to center.

All other big league games were postponed, leaving the field open to discussion of new Commissioner Albert B. (Happy) Chandler and naming of 10 new members to the hall of fame.

The diamond immortals, selected by a special committee of veteran officials and baseball writers, were Roger Bresnahan, Dan Brubaker, Fred Clarke, Jimmy Collins, Ed Delahanty, Hugh Duffy, Hugh Jennings, Mike (King) Kelly, James O'Rourke and Wilbert Robinson.

The late Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis had been named by the same group at a December meeting but the baseball writers failed to appoint a 20th century star in their January poll.

Conservationists To Talk With Ohio Farmers, Sportsmen

Notice of the county meeting is advertised in all newspapers published in the county, and farm and sportsmen groups are notified by county game protectors. Each county selects a farmer and sportsman at the meeting as delegates to district sessions, which in turn name representatives to the state hearing.

Farmers and sportsmen are represented regularly at the hearings but anyone is welcome to attend. Conservation Commissioner Don Waters explained.

"Farmer and sportsman delegates are selected in a true 'grass roots' manner from the millions of persons who hunt and fish annually in Ohio," he added.

Meetings are held in each county with chairmen of county conservation committees setting the time and place for the public gatherings.

THE AMERICAN HOUSE

By Virginia Chase

BY the middle of October the foliage was gone from the maples and birches, leaving the birds' nests bare. The burdock withered, and the milkweed clung to its last little banners of white. Except for one long, green line of morning glories, the growth along the shore was limp and darkened. Lobster pots toppled above the high-water mark. Dorries were drawn up and turned over, power boats cradled and housed. Every morning there was a thin shell of ice in the pond above the dam.

In November it grew steadily colder. My father had promised that we would be home by Christmas, but he had never set the exact day. Whenever we pressed my mother for it, she put us off by saying, "You'll find out in good time." Though we were impatient, we were not apprehensive, for we knew that there was almost enough money on hand to pay the note.

The cold kept up until the end of November. Still there was no snow. Jay was getting worried, for the ruts in the road were hard on the wagon. They loosened the body bolts and racked the wheels. A thaw early in December made traveling harder than ever, for at noon there was mud to contend with and at morning and night refrozen ground.

On the ninth of the month the tongue showed a crack, which M. Giddings repaired with an iron band. On the twelfth, just as the Christmas loads were beginning, a spring broke. That meant only one thing—a new wagon. It would cost $150.

My mother dreaded to tell us, but she couldn't put it off, for we were asking her daily when we should begin to pack our things. That night she came into the parlor where we were playing "Pit." "Girls," she said, "we won't be going home after all. We'll have our tree right here in the corner." At the end of January we owed the bank $150. Profits from the stage had become very small. People didn't travel now unless they had to, and those who had horses transported their own perishables to keep them from freezing on the road. It didn't help our feelings any to discover that my father's bid for the line had been $500 lower than that of his closest competitor.

We girls were having our winter vacation, a long one in our village, and for us already becoming dull. The excitement of the snow had worn away under the routine of filling wood boxes and watching the arrow of the furnace gauge to see that the fire did not become too hot. It was not so warm in the American House as it had been in school. You wore a sweater all day, and your feet began to burn and itch as soon as you stopped moving. There were very few transients. Except for the meat, fish, eggs, and potatoes my father got as payment from his patients, we would have been operating at a loss.

Mr. Cutter had been growing lazier and lazier. He never swept the office or shoveled the snow from the piazza without being reminded. Day after day he let the clock run down. His naps grew longer. When he was awake, he just sat on his stool drawing his circles or handling some of the bright new Lincoln pennies. Sometimes he piled them up in tiers. Sometimes he arranged them in intricate patterns around the brass-topped circular inkwell. When anyone came in, he guarded them jealously. I never got a chance at the register and the paper weight except when he was in the dining room.

Mrs. Guptill's irritability was keeping us out of the kitchen. She sputtered constantly about the cold, for, located as it was, the stove couldn't possibly heat the entire room. She kept harping, too, on Mr. Cutter. His laziness. His extravagance. His appetite. The business of the lamp plagued her terribly. She didn't say much about that, but she kept her eyes open.

One afternoon she came hurrying down to the kitchen where my mother was ironing and listening to my complaints about how drab the days were.

"I've found out," she gasped. "I brightened, for her face suggested an outrage."

"Found out what?" my mother asked, looking up.

"What he does with it," He spoke so scornfully, could mean just one person as far as Mrs. Guptill was concerned.

"Does with what?"

"The kerosene."

"Oh!" My mother had never begrudged Mr. Cutter his kerosene. His extravagance was the least thing she held against him. We girls had never given it a thought. "Well, what does he do with it?"

Mrs. Guptill's face took on an expression of disgust. "He uses it to soak his hands in."

From Mrs. Guptill's manner, my mother, too, must have been expecting something more. "Well," she said coolly, "that's probably the way he keeps them so nice and white."

Her composure knocked some of the wind out of Mrs. Guptill's sails. "If you ask me, I think something should be done about it," she said, looking injured. Then she left and went back upstairs. I felt quite let down. Still it was a story.

"Are you going to tell Papa?" I asked my mother.

She shook her head. If my father had not been moved by the discord Mr. Cutter was causing, he was unlikely to be impressed by the fact that he soaked his hands in kerosene. Besides, she had her pride. For some reason my father could not discharge Mr. Cutter. If he did not care to divulge that reason, she would not ask it. She would not even bring the subject up.

"I've said all I intend to say," she told me.

Without Painful Backache

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up, urinating, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes show there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.
